

ISHA BLAAKER

There is absolutely nothing Isha can't do; modeling, acting or being a content creator, striving to be the best at whatever he does. He began his modelling career a decade ago, and has since worked with prestigious brands such as Estee Lauder, Ralph Lauren, L'oreal and was on the cover of Men's Health. After moving to New York eight years ago, Isha turned his attention to the world of acting. It was only after an encounter with Pharrell Williams that he decided to pursue his dreams and take a shot at becoming an actor. Since then, he has appeared on HBO's 'The Flight Attendant' and the upcoming movie 'Origin' directed by Ava Duvernay. He is also highly skilled in martial arts. He loves to spend time with his family and friends and as a true native Dutchie, he never fails to take his bicycle with him wherever he goes.
